

Rodro Rides the Rising Seas-B3
By Paul Rodriguez

Rough Draft: 8/1/17
Word Count: 970

[Rodro and Embl playing pirates on a cruise ship.]

Pi-rates-smell and they like to eat slop!

Yo-ho-ho and a bottle of pop!

Swab-the-decks with a skeleton mop!

Yo-ho-ho and a bottle of POP!

There was no warning, the ship started quaking,
my heart began thumping, my eyeballs were shaking,
both eardrums were aching, there was no mistaking,
this wasn't a nightmare— and I was not waking!

CRASH-SMASH-SPLASH-GURGLE-SPLAT!!!

Holy, high-seas, what was that!?!)

The ship took a dip, so we slipped to the side, and there we saw proof we were in for a ride
the likes of which no one aboard could survive
if we didn't rally to keep them alive.

Rodro, is that a huge hole in the bow?
It is Embl, but the real question is, how?
Those things can't be ice bergs, the waters too warm for even the tiniest ice cube to form.

Let's ask the Captain, I'm sure he will know,
what those things are, and a safe place to go.

Captain, what are those? Are we gonna sink?
No, it's not nearly as bad as you think.

For real, 'cause that hole is the size of a bus!
Trust me, it's nothing, so don't make a fuss.
Go back up on deck and get back to your playing.
I'm not gonna lie; so, believe what I'm saying...

And right about then, the ship shook again;
we slid around like greasy pigs in a pen.

The Captain was flustered but said, "It's ok!
This kind of thing happens here every day!"

Now a quick message to my sheisty friends who have lots of money and coy odds and ends.
Get some fresh air at the front of the square,
your pilot is going to meet you up there.

Everyone else, you're gonna be fine!
The rocking you feel is a really good sign!
The water is choppy but no need to worry,
we will be passing right through in a hurry.

But what about all of those things in the sea?
They look like dangerous problems to me.

I don't think you're seeing what you think you see.
You'll see what I say 'cause it's all about me.

Are you kidding? You're out of your tuna fish tree, to think you can force me to change what I see. (R)

Your barnacle breath and your sea weedy wink, won't fool us because we know we're gonna sink! (E)

He's a bit crazy and he doesn't care!
That puts us in peril; we better beware!

Suffering from mental ills is the worst and I'd love to help him but innocents first.

We have to run and go warn everyone before it's too late and the damage is done.

We shouted our warnings but to our surprise,
everyone thought we were telling them lies.

See for yourself! Look right over there!
Those masses are giving our ship a good tare!
The proof is we're sinking! We can't stay afloat
when those things are ripping huge holes in our boat!

But they were too busy with tweeting clichés
to see they were getting right in their own way.

The ship will be sinking before very long but you-all are tweeting like nothing is wrong!

Instead of believing your very own eyes,
you let that crazy man fool you with lies!

The Captain, he cares, and he said its ok.
So, take all your proof and get out of my way!

He only cares for himself and his money...

Before I was done came another loud crash...

He's so deceitful it's really not funny...

...an earsplitting smash, and the soak of the splash.

The Captain ran by, "I know what you're thinking,
but it's only water, the ship isn't sinking!"

Then we all watched him get on a small plane and fly with his friends right up into the rain.

Is that enough proof? You just saw him fly away with the rich while he left you to cry.

Then something flew off the mass on the stern.
I saw what it was and was filled with concern.
A plastic bag, torn, and all tied up in knots
with little fish caught up in quite a few spots.

Embl, those things in the water are plastic;
fish choking, ship wrecking, hard as a brick.

Quick, to the life boats before we all sink!
There's no time to waste; not even to blink!

Tell everyone that we have to move fast
so, we can survive the mistakes from our past!

Some still deny that we're gonna go down.
Why would they do that? Their families will drown!

Hey everybody, please, listen to me before this poor ship slides down into the sea.

Never let others control what you do!
The choices you make, should be up to you!

Grab onto your loved ones. Hold on to them tight.
Look in their eyes and you'll see what is right.

Please, save your families before it's too late!
Don't waste a second! There's no time to wait!

When everyone made it back home safe and sound lots of, "I love you's!", were going around!

It's true, I was happy to help everyone
but I knew in my heart, my job wasn't done.
I think Mother Nature is just getting even by proving what people refuse to believe in.

A fact is a fact, we don't get to pick,
we made the Earth and her oceans get sick!

That plane never landed because of the storming
and all of the flooding caused by global warming.
They thought they were so rich that they'd be ok,
but nature just doesn't see money that way.

If we play games with this world that we live in,
you can be sure Mother Nature will win.
So, I will do better to honor her wishes,
and care for the planet, its oceans, and fishes.

No one has the right to ruin everyone's Earth.
